POLICE BREAK UP POKER PLAYING IN SOCIETY

Make No Arrests among Women, but Situation is Handled Just the Same.

NEW YORK, June 9.—The police as the refuge of the hubby whose wife insists on gambling away her allowance is the latest product of fertile Washington Heights brains.

It seems a group of young married women started a friendly afternoon poker game among themselves. It was very quiet and all that at first, and the limit was 10 cents.

Hubbies raised their eyebrows, but said little. Then the "girls" began to get reckless. The 10-cent limit was dashed aside. Many and many a young wife returned to her little flat and reported herself "broke."

Some "L. O. U.'s" Handed Out.

The furor spread. Promises to pay, an invention of the devil himself, were introduced by some wife whose husband is in Wall street.

Oh, yes, there was also a "kitty." It repaid the woman holding the session for expenses and damage, if any.

There was a hubbie's mass meeting. The next quiet little wives gathering was started by the announcement, "The police are at the door."

Chips and money were quickly swept into hiding places.

Police Object to "Kitties."

The police were very gentlemanly. "We are just seeing that now law is being violated, ladies. Of course, you know, ladies, 'kitties' are not allowed."

Then they departed and the game went on, but without quite its accustomed zest.

The next day, in another home, the same thing happened.

It was very satisfying, really. The police just stood around and did no more harm than a well-disciplined butler.

But it looked bad. Attendance at the games, as the days went by and the police remained steady visitors, diminished quickly and finally fell to zero.

It is remarkable how many Washington Heights policemen are smoking on corners of the quarter each, kind when off duty.

BIG INTEREST IN GAS CENTENARY

Hundredth Anniversary of the Founding of First Gas Company to Be Marked.

BALTIMORE, June 9.—Extensive plans are being made for the celebration in this city on June 16 and 17 of the American Gas Centenary.

The event will mark the one hundredth anniversary of the founding of the first gas company in America, the Gas Light Company of Baltimore, and will be similar in scope and nature to the observance of the centenary of the founding of the first gas company in the world, which took place in London in 1812, attracting international attention.

The American Gas Centenary is being planned along dignified, impressive lines, the John Hopkins University having arranged to take a foremost part in the exercises by holding a meeting the night of June 16 at which President Frank Johnson Goodnow will preside. The program will comprise addresses by men of national reputation.

The other features of the Centenary will be conducted under the auspices of the Consolidated Gas Electric Light and Power Company of Baltimore. Chief among these will be a big industrial and educational street parade in which floats demonstrating the development of the gas industry will be seen.

Owing to the national significance of the celebration, widespread interest is being shown in it, and it is expected that many prominent men from various parts of the country will come to Baltimore, while it is in progress.

WELL BORING

Is Abandoned by Standard Oil Company in China Owing to Government Opposition.

PEKING, June 9.—The Standard Oil Company has withdrawn all its prospectors and equipment from Shensi Province and has definitely abandoned the boring of wells in search for oil. The last of its drilling crew has returned to Peking, and will sail for the United States in a few days.

While there is still a possibility that the Standard Oil Company and the Chinese government may reach an agreement to conduct some further prospecting work some time in the future, there is believed to be little likelihood that such action will be taken soon.

No announcement has been made as to the success the American company has had in its exploitation work, but it is reported that the results of the drilling were disappointing.

WEAR OLD CLOTHES.

LONDON, June 9.—"Don't be ashamed to wear old clothes in war time," the exhortation placarded all over London, has not fallen on deaf ears. Few new spring suits are seen, even on sunny days. Navy blue is worn by nearly every one who is not in mourning. A practical plainness seems to be aimed at by the majority.

A German electrician says he has invented apparatus by which he can measure the ten-millionth part of a second of time.

The cork oak of Spain is said to grow best in poorest soil, thus proving itself first cousin to the grouch.
